Who is our smartest NSR person? Can you and that person (and it may well be you, be frank and admit it if that is the case) be in my office at 10 tomorrow for a conference call with our brothers at EPA on NSR? Let me know. They just called about this. Thanks.

Ed and Barry (you are acting, right)

Long story but this is chapter 8 of the NEP now with technical editor's input plus significant comments from CEA, State, DOI, EPA. If you have time to read today, great. FE took the lead. no policy options. PO provided earlier input and comment.

Margot,

Attached is a small addition to the "sidebar" info that I forwarded to you on Monday.

The attached summary paragraph of the FAA free flight program should be added at the bottom of the Energy Conservation Through More Efficient Practices in the Use of Transportation section.

Thanks – I am starting to feel like I almost know what I am doing (dangerous place to be). Bill Magwood wanted to take another look at the NE piece, and respond to some comments of mine on what he sent today on fuels processing.

After I get his stuff, I wonder if we should do a quickie review (mainly selected PO and FE staff) before sending it over to OVP. I fear that once we launch it, we may not have another chance.

Jay,

These are the figures and graphics that went over for chapter 8 but I think the editor stripped out the figure names so I no longer know which one is figure 3 or 4, etc. Figures and graphics are not to be confused with photos (I do not have the final list of photos you sent over after our conversation two weeks ago Friday)
